Urban Soil Health and Agriculture Expo

Saturday, February 24 | 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM

Join us for our second annual Urban Soil Health and Agriculture Expo! Learn from soil health and agriculture experts, engage with local vendors, and access resources to advance your operation. All are welcome!

This event will consist of two moderated panels, three mini-talks by experts, and vendor walks where attendees can connect with local and state resources and organizations. Prospective growers, home gardeners, and urban farmers alike can gain valuable insight, knowledge, and make connections. Lunch will be provided and translation services will be available upon request.
